Children's Book Authors Honoured

The Canadian Children's Book Centre (CCBC) announced the winners of four children’s books awards on October 16th, 2007.

The largest of the awards, the TD Canadian Children’s Literature Award, was given to Vancouver author Sarah Ellis for her book titled Odd Man Out (Groundwood Books).

Other winners include:

Ontario author Jan Thornhill for the book I Found a Dead Bird: The Kids’ Guide to the Cycle of Life & Death (Maple Tree Press),

When You Were Small written by Sara O'Leary, illustrated by Julie Morstad (Simply Read Books)

Kanada written by Eva Wiseman (Tundra Books).

To read more about these awards, and children’s literature including book reviews and author/illustrator resources, check out the CCBC’s website at www.bookcentre.ca